

THE AVETT BROTHERS SET TO PERFORM AT THE CONSTANT CENTER ON SEPTEMBER 20, 2011

TICKETS ON SALE NOW EXCLUSIVELY THROUGH COX TIX

The Avett Brothers, consisting of brothers Scott and Seth Avett, along with bassist Bob Crawford will be performing at the Constant Center on Tuesday, September 20. Drummer Jacob Edwards and cellist Joe Kwon are touring members of the band who will also be taking the stage. Tickets are currently on sale through COXTix.com, by phone at 888-3-COXTIX, and at the Constant Center Box Office.

Formed in Charlotte, North Carolina in 2011, The Avett Brothers style is best identified as folk rock. An eclectic mix of country harmonies, modern bluegrass, and rock, the band drew inspiration listening to albums by Bob Dylan, Neil Young, Crosby, Stills & Nash, and Common Decency. Since their origination, The Avett Brothers have released 10 studio albums, the latest being their big-label debut. The band has been honored with the Americana Music Association Duo/Group of the Year and New/Emerging Artist of the Year awards. The Second Gleam, an EP released in 2008, reached #82 on Billboard's Top Albums chart in 2008, quite a showing for an independent CD with minimal marketing and publicity. The Avett Brothers chose to sign with American Recordings in late 2008. Producer Rick Rubin stated, "As soon as I heard the depth in their singing and songwriting, I was in for the ride."

I and Love and You was released in 2009 and their album has gained national attention as they have made appearances on David Letterman, Jimmy Fallon, were mentioned as Artists to Watch in 2009 in the August issue of Rolling Stone, and performed at the 53rd annual Grammy Awards. They have filled a 7,000-seat venue in Cary, North Carolina, sold out two nights at the Crystal Ballroom in Portland, Oregon, and have performed back-to-back sellouts at New York's Fillmore East. "We know what we're worth, and we've been campaigning for a long time to be heard," noted Scott Avett.
